

Hilarious new vtp production

From speed dating to funeral chat-ups

By Barbara Ottawa

Forget Sex and the City. If you want to know what life and love really is about go to the Ensembletheater at the Petersplatz in Vienna.

For this season's last production the vienna theatre project boldly goes where it has never gone before: Into the world of musical theatre – and it works brilliantly.

The recipe: Four talented young actors with amazing voices, a violin, a piano, and the musical success about relationships "I Love You, You're Perfect, Now Change".

Remember when a man last actually called on the day he promised he would, or when you last enjoyed the film your girlfriend chose for the evening. Do you want to know what married life can be like or what would change if you could sue your partner for sexual dissatisfaction? Go and see for yourself when Katrin Mersch, Suzanne Carey, Daniel Williams, and Pehton Quirante play lovers, couples, friends and foes all in one evening.

The hilarious short episodes (text written by Joe DiPietro) are accompanied by Jimmy Roberts' wonderful music, which is perfectly interpreted by Sieglinde Grubinger on the violin and Bernd Leichtfried on the piano. The fact that singers and musicians seem to enjoy the evening as much as the audience makes it an even better theatrical experience.

The show will run until May 6. <http://www.viennatheatreproject.at>